Pump Still Is Trouble For City Council

The Elba City Council met n special session Tuesday night to discuss a well-point pump purchased about six months ago on low bid. According to city officials the pump has never functioned properly, and the meeting was to determine a course of action on the matter. City Clerk Jack Prescott stated that it was a continuing problem and also that no payment has been made or Mayor Robert Folsom stated that the equipment had not been given a fair test yet, and he wasn't sure the machine should be returned.

Len Newton is shown with one of his "pets". This is a six feet rat snake and is harmless, according to Len. He says this snake is easily handled and he can do most anything with him. The big snake is unusual in that he is so big. According to Len, this is a real big rat snake, even though other breeds grow larger.

Presently, this is the only snake Len has, and he has only had this one a few weeks. At one point during the past summer, he had about twenty of these pets in a pen including a small rattlesnake. However, he said, "My mother made me turn him loose.'

While handling the rattler, he took the time to break off the fangs of the snake. He noted that this made him harmless for about two weeks.

Len keeps his snakes mostly in a large camping tent with a complete bottom and a zipper door. He says that he sometimes sleeps in the tent with the snakes, but never with twenty and never with the rattlers.

He promises to show off a large collection of pets, probably next summer when he will have time to look around and find them.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox.

We have an Elba native living in Mississippi, who has a hungger for the weather reports from this area. He is an avid reader of THE ELBA CLIPPER and has been for many years. For your benefit, Mr. Marsh, the weather is cooling off somewhat, but still hot. We are getting plenty of rain now, but the river is still a long way from flood stage. The farmers are fretting at the summer rain clouds each afternoon, but are managing to begin picking their peanuts.

Each morning those of us who take our children to school are aided in our efforts by the efforts of the volunteer boys from the middle school (and of course the police department). I was shocked recently to learn that grown men and women (la-I was shocked recently to learn that grown men and wonter (laddies and gentlemen?) give these youngsters verbal abuse that is unreal. Now, this is just a small number of adults, but still...probably some of the adults who are guilty of this will use the excuse that some boy didn't do it exactly as this adult thought it should be. Well the youth might be wrong, but again he may be right. All in all, they do an excellent job and should be commended. When asking the local police asking what could be done about it he suggested that the boys chief what could be done about it, he suggested that the boys just give the tag number of the abuser's car to him, and he would handle it from there...any more questions ladies and

Garage sales are THE way to sell those unwanted and unnecessary items around the house. Big city folks have been doing this for some time, and it is just catching on big in this area. Saturday, there were five different sales advertised in this newspaper, and each one involved more than one family. A check Saturday afternoon indicated that all had sold a bunch of things that normally would have been stored a few more years and then discarded. We strongly suggest this to other families with full garages, closets and attics.

An article published recently in the ENTERPRISE LEDGER reported that a father had to deliver his own child due to the rush, rush of the arrival. Well, Mr. D. C. Miles stopped by the office to say that again Enterprise didn't have anything on Elba, because he did the very same thing 39 years ago

We have a letter to the editor this week that we didn't answer. However, we will use it as an excuse to mention one of our problems. We always try to picture different boys in our weekly football action pictures. However, unless you have tried this, you don't realize the problem. There first are certain boys that are always in the thick areas around the line of scrimmage where one looks like another. Then comes my personal problem. Week after week we seem to have more on Larry Phillips and James Smith, even though we try not to do this. But it is impossible for this camera bug not to flash a picture of them when they lope out into the open at just the right distance for a good picture. True, they are good ball-players, but we feel a little guilty at times for missing boys who do equally as well on the field. Maybe in another twenty years of doing this, we will learn the system.

We read recently where the city council of Brewton has passed a law that forbids roadblocks for collections of money. They did exempt the United Fund and one other (Jaycee honey day, Mae Gullery, Shannon Don-aldson, Estella Williams, Lu-I think), but they gave as the reason, the chances of someone getting hurt which are the very reasons ye ole editor has opposed them here.

A representative of General Telephone was in the office of this week doing his job as a public relations man. Well, we had just been fussing about telephone calls on our bill that we didn't make and used this to get him started earning his money. In the end, he said Elba was scheduled to get the ANI or Automatic Number Identification in late 1978. This means that by the end of next year if you or I pick up a telephone and make a direct dial call, no operator will ask your number. It will automatically be billed to the telephone you are calling from. This direct dial is the area causing the most problems with wrong billing on our statement and with everyone else, says opinion on our utilities in general. We are now complaining about the high costs of phones electricity, gas, etc., but we ain't seen nothing yet! There is little question, but our electricity will go up again next year. Garbage fees will also go up some and soon. An engineer who is up on such things told me this week that in a few years, government regulations will force sewage rates up higher than water bills. This is brought on by pollution fighters who have won approval of government regulations requiring more and more work go into sewage

It is bad that just over 100,000 people bothered to cast a vote in the election Tuesday. True, there appears to be nothing drastic as the results of this light turn-out, but there could be any day. Just think, there are at least 100,000 of us that are pure nuts and completely without reason in our thinking and if this unconcern continues, this group can pass a law to dam up all the rivers and flood the entire state!

Elba General Hospital Holds Resucitation

Elba General Hospital in conjunction with Enterprise State Junior College recently conducted a 24 hour cour in cardiopulmonary resucitation at the hospital. The purpose of the course is to train personnel in the correct method of administering possible life-saving procedures to persons that have suffered a heart attack and/or respiratory failure. The methods taught were mouth-to-mouth resucitation and external heart massage. A majority of the course hours was spent on practical application of these procedures on manikins especially designed to train individuals in these procedures. This course was primarily designed for the Elba Rescue Squad but was opened to a li-

This week I'll tip my hat to the Brantley Bulldogs for their impressive 28-0 win over Dozier. It appears the Bulldogs are playoff-bound again!

The Elba Tigers remained unbeaten last week by stumbling past the Luverne Tigers 35-19. The Tigers won big, but the score isn't a true indication of how close the game was.

With 1:31 left in the half the score was tied at 7-7. Johnny Dyess ran back a kickoff to put Elba in front 13-7 at the half, but it took Dyess' super run to put the Tigers ahead. n the final stanza Elba scored two touchdowns in a span of 1 minute and 16 seconds to blow the game open. Until that outburst the score was 21-13.

Elba does have a good team, but the Tigers can't seem to put it all together. Last week the offense fumbled away scoring opportunities twice, once at the 12-yard line and once at the 21-yard line. If the Tigers hope to keep on winning, they must score every time they get close. If not a touchdown, Elba should at least chalk up 3 points with a field goal. True, Elba has an explosive offense, but the Tigers can't rely on big-play touchdowns to pull them through every game.

The Elba defense continues to bend, but still hasn't broken. Last week the defense yielded 275 yards to the Luverne offense. The Tiger defenders also gave Luverne five first downs on penalties, and kept one scoring drive alive by making four penalties in a span of 13 plays. However, despite the mistakes, Elba did win, and that is

I feel that Ken Martin's emergence as a passer will reap dividends as the season progresses. The Tigers' two tightend alignment will strengthen the run, and now that Martin has proven he can pass, the opposing defense must be careful not to overplay the run. When you've got running backs like Larry Phillips, Johnny Dyess, James Smith and Larry Ware, and a passing combo like Ken Martin to Russ Wood, you've got an offense that is receiver despite heavy pressure. capable of putting points on the board! Also, now that opposing teams know that Claude Collier and Perry Fuller can catch the ball, they must respect Elba's ability to complete the long pass at any time. If the Tigers can heal their wounds, and get by Opp, Elba could have quite a year.

WHAT IS ENCROACHMENT?

During the past two games, game announcer Doug Holderfield has said the word "encroachment" at least a couple of dozen times. Well, on Tuesday of this week I talked with Mr. J. B. McCaslin, who is the Associate Secretary of the Alabama High School Athletic Association, and found out exactly what encroachment is. First off, there is no such thing in high school football as We begin the Christian life responsible for our relation-ship to God, we need, so far We begin the Christian life through faith. We must have faith in the divinity of Jesus, and in his power and willingness to save us from our sins.

But faith is not enough. After we are saved, we are expected to have lives of virtue or goodness. Christianity is far more than a code of morals, but a Christian who is immoral is a counterfeit. Jesus not only said, "Yoar sins are forgiven;" he also said, "Go and sin no more." He challenges us to strive to attain perfection, even as God is perfect.

Who begin the Christian life to our relationship by the our relationship to God, we need, so far as possible, to maintain a right relationship with our fellow man.

Add to brotherly kindness charity. Like most places in the New Testament, we should translate this as love. Paul gave Timothy a hard recipe for Christian living. But if we strive to love God and our fellow man, we are more likely said, "Yoar sins are forgiven;" to be faithful, good, wise, self-controlled, steadfast, devout, and kind to others. Thus, strive to attain perfection, even as God is perfect.

There will be separate classes for Mission Friends, Girls in Action (GA), and Working at Pleasant Ridge - District Judge, Coffee Co., AL the common sense we have; and we are to learn his truths. No man is truly educated unless he knows God's Word.

Add to knowledge temperance. A better translation of this Greek word would be "Self-control." Some people's only goal in life is to gain what they want for themselves. Some are controlled by their minds and make intelligent decisions. Others are controlled by the flesh, and become gluttons, coming events. winebibbers, or libertenes. But the goal of a Christian is to be ruled by the Spirit of God who dwells within him, so that he is not really self-controlled, but God-controlled.

Add to temperance patience. This refers to the ability to endure things. In Paul's day a Chrsitian often had to pay a big price for his faith. Paul was likely beheaded himself. Today's attacks on Christians are far more subtle, at least n our nation. But we need to be ready to die for our faith -or, far more difficult, to live Add to patience godliness. letic field? Absolutely, but they are also talents being misused by many youths to make a dishonest dollar-purse snatching. These youthful criminals are constantly looking for an opportunity—a chance to grab an unguarded purse from an unsuspecting person and to take off with it after meeting little or no leaving a bank or other location where people frequently obtain money or something of the seconscious of the same manner.

Avoid wrapping a purse strap around wrapping a purse strap around your wrist or arm—if the purse snatcher struggles for the purse, you might be injured because you can't free yourself (don't risk serious injury to thwart a determined criminal).

these young criminals and to avoid the loss of valuables and the headaches involved in replacing drivers' licenses and in obtaining new credit cards, keep the following suggestions walue.

To bon't put your purse down and allow your attention to be diverted from it. When carrying bags, packages, or other items, carry your purse between these items.

Be conscious of the security of your purse at all times.

Making your purse a less attractive target for the young purse snatcher will discourage him from victimizing you and the security of your purse at all times.
